I am in the process of consulting colleagues about a filing in response to your NPRM on international settlement rates. We hope to put in something related to our various documents to ITU, CITEL and APECTEL. [REDACTED]

I see that Vodafone has already been to see you. Their slide set is interesting, if a little controversial, even contentious. [REDACTED]

I fear that we do not have enormously detailed data on these rates, but we will do what we can. I think the carriers would be the best source of data.

The position here in Brussels is very messy. Progress on the Worldcom vs. KPN case is slow. The Recommendation on Market Definitions is also slow and disturbingly behind schedule (now expected in January). We will spell all of this out in our submission. [REDACTED]

Ewan
